Brain Station 2008 Winner

Ever thought about getting a new haircut? Are you ready for a radically new look? Then this is just the show for you! Welcome to "Cut-Club", the quiz show where you can lose a lot more than just money. Each 30-minute episode of "Cut-Club" begins with the production team arriving at selected hairdressers around the country - from a hip, urban stylist to a small-town barber. First, the shops are equipped with hidden cameras, and then, the show's host and hairstylist wait for their "victims" - the potential contestants. Now the game begins! Once the possible contestant is seated, the host and hairstylist appear and make a surprising offer: win a lot of money, or lose a lot of hair! If the contestant chooses to participate, a new round of "Cut-Club" begins. Each candidate is asked 3 to 6 rounds of multiple-choice questions. Every correct answer is rewarded with an increasing amount of money... but wrong answers are instantly punished with a brutal and irreversible change of hairstyle.

This could mean anything from losing a few centimeters, or having an entire eyebrow shaved off to even getting dyed some completely unnatural color. There is only one thing for certain: with the prize money steadily increasing, so does the severity of the punishment. You might very well end up a punk! After hearing the question, the contestants can quit the game. But with no risk, there is no gain - they can only win the big money if they continue placing their hair-do in danger. In this show, the cash pot and the "punishments" are not set in stone - the host can raise the stakes as he wishes. He can also throw in some "help-lines", such as "look for the answer in one of the glossy magazines - the clock starts now", "ask the next person that enters the hairdressers", or "take ten items of clothing instead". When playing "Cut-Club", there is only one thing you can rely on: This is "Cut-Club". Once you decide to play, take no short cuts - you might just end up with one...
