Galileo

Continually above the channel average, "Galileo" is Germany's favorite sciencetainment magazine, having already surpassed an astounding 3,000 daily episodes over the last ten years!

Take part in the exciting world of "Galileo" and learn more about modern life. How does a fuel cell bike work? Will magnets destroy my ATM card? What will the house of the future look like? The daily one-hour sciencetainment magazine "Galileo" explains the world we live in and gives you answers to questions that you never knew you had.

Looking beneath the surface of today's complex world, "Galileo" reveals with a light, entertaining approach the scientific nature of such standard everyday objects as cars or mobile phones. "Galileo" provides the answers and brings viewers up-to-date with the most startling new inventions.

"Galileo" fits into all time slots and appeals to every target group. Due to the huge variety of available clips and the comprehensive toolkit, "Galileo" can be positioned according to the individual programming strategy of any channel.

By shedding light on both common and extraordinary phenomena, "Galileo" offers sciencetainment at its best with its mesmerizing graphics and spellbinding images.

Unlimited in its scope, "Galileo" is up for any challenge. Whether covering the manufacturing process of permanently razor-sharp knives, making the largest lasagne or working one day as a butcher, no undertaking is beyond its reach!

Galileo

With one of the biggest editorial teams in Europe, "Galileo" makes everyday phenomena easy to comprehend in the most interesting way possible. The magazine is also an exceptionally strong brand: on its online platform, viewers can watch "Galileo" clips, play games, and enroll in science contests. In addition, "Galileo" content is available in the form of podcasts, mobile games and episodes that can be downloaded as Video-on-Demand. Boasting an all-inclusive 360-degree approach, "Galileo" intrigues buyers worldwide!

Astonishing experiments, far-away places and ingenious ideas: this is "Galileo". Being on air in countries like France, Sweden, Denmark, Poland and Russia, "Galileo" also has a proven international track record!
