Galileo Extra

The most vivid highlights from over 10 years of sciencetainment condensed into one special series!

Science is boring? Definitely not with “Galileo Extra”!

“Galileo Extra” sets new standards with fascinating imagery, remarkable stories and top-quality graphics in an entertaining yet informative way. In each of the half-hour episodes, one special topic is presented in-depth, giving viewers a thoroughly comprehensive understanding of the subject. They will learn the basic knowledge that everyone should have, those extraordinary facts that everyone will feel compelled to share with their friends, down to the smallest details that make each topic so special.

Why does chocolate taste so delicious? How many explosives do you need to knock down a multi-story building? How do you design and construct the longest dam on Earth? Who makes the best pasta? How fast are the elevators to the top of the world’s highest tower? What defines the most exclusive and luxurious of hotels... and what do they cost per night? In our quickly evolving world, we rarely have the chance to sit back and question all the things around us that play such important roles in our everyday lives. Where before we simply took these common luxuries for granted, now we’re finally given the exciting chance to see how they work...

Skiing in the middle of the desert in Dubai? Not possible? Well, “Galileo Extra” takes you there. “Galileo Extra” is the very first modern TV encyclopedia, illuminating all aspects of each topic with closely interconnected segments on history, science and trivia, and offering informative answers to the most interesting questions.

Welcome to the World of “Galileo Extra” - with eyes wide open!
